

INTOWN
LUTHERAN CHURCH

NO PARKING
EXCEPT WHERE
TOWED AWAY

welcome
to the neighborhood!

Ready to explore? Here are a few of our favorite places:

"Oakland Cemetery has a 5k in October, concerts, etc. Or just go to peruse some of Georgia's history and have a quiet place to walk in the middle of a bustling city.
Pro tip: Grab the clues scavenger hunt and go on a date! (Can be found at the shop The Beehive in Edgewood shopping center but the cemetery may also have copies.)" - Melissa

Memorial Dr SE

"If you like beer, stop by My Friends Growler Shop. They have an impressive selection of beers on tap—mostly local. They're always willing to talk beer and let you try a few before buying. They have beer in cans and wine also and post new arrivals on Facebook." - Kenny

"Ria's Bluebird is my favorite breakfast spot in Atlanta. Don't let the small building fool you; they have additional seating in their outside oasis around back. I love their lattes and for food, their French toast with bananas is so delicious.
Pro tip: Get there early. As most trendy Atlanta breakfast places are, the line forms quickly and they typically have a wait." - Erin

"When in the area or special occasions we love Agave Restaurant, a traditional Southwestern/Mexican spot, for very nice dining and eclectic food choices."
 - Jen and Kev

"Little Tart Bakeshop shares a space with Revelator Coffee next to Elevator Factory and offers a variety. We love trying different things every time, but usually can't leave without getting their peanut butter cookies with cocoa nibs." - Paul & Jen

"One of our favorite family activities is attending community festivals (like the Grant Park Summer Shade Festival in August, or the Cabbagetown Chomp 'n Stomp in November). It's a great way to meet new people, enjoy beautiful weather, and experience the character of Atlanta's Intown neighborhoods."
 - Lucas and Meredith

"As many of the brunch spots in Atlanta are super crowded, we were excited to find one near Intown Lutheran that has wonderful, local breakfast options, called Petit Chou."
 - Gracie & Josh

"Go check out festivals and activities at Grant Park!"
 - Lisa

Dekalb Farmer's Market is great for a deal! Expect a crowd on the weekend though! - Michaela

"Home grown has great southern breakfast with yummy pancakes."
 - Dwight

Moreland Ave NE

welcome

to the neighborhood!

Community is waiting for you at Intown!

Learn more about ways to get involved at intownlutheran.com.

We hope one of these Sundays you can join us for worship! We meet at 10:00 AM at 300 Oakland Ave SE.

www.intownlutheran.com

